SUMMER'S ALMOST HERE. The Quad-City area has had a cool and wet spring, but warm weather is here, apparently to stay for the summer. To relieve themselves from the heat, these swimmers at the Paddlers' Swim Club in Granite City splash one another in one of the pools at the club. Summer officially begins tomorrow.

Propose new tax for Pontoon police

A 1983 tax to support the Pontoon Beach Police Department is being proposed by the village board and is considered essential if the department is to retain its current manpower level, according to Village Board President Paul Bennett, who says of the tax, "To put it bluntly, if we don't have it, we're dead."

The proposed .075 tax (seven and one-half cents of tax per $100 of property assessment) will be the topic of a public hearing at 7 p.m. Wednesday, June 29, in the village hall, 3910 Highway 111. While the tax does not require voter approval, Bennett says public input will be very important to the board in deciding whether to impose the tax.

It would be the first property tax for the village ever collected since Pontoon Beach became a village. On the books, the village has an .18-cent tax rate for 1982 (collected this summer), but the board abated that tax, paying the levy with village funds, so it will not be collected. That tax was necessary to guarantee repayment of the bonds issued with the new village hall was purchased.

This year, the board voted to collect the tax for the village hall, but Bennett says he feels sure the board will abate it again if the police tax is passed. The 7½-cent police tax is expected to raise $61,399.

Bennett says the tax for police "is necessary to keep the men we have. Without it, we would probably have to almost cut our police department in half and we are at the bare minimum now." The department has seven officers, including the chief, Rosewell Bennett Jr. There also are three full-time dispatchers and two part-time dispatchers.

Bennett describes the public hearing as "just the first step" in approving the police tax. He said the attorney is guiding the board step-by-step and there may be additional actions between now and the second Tuesday of September, when the tax rate would have to be turned in to Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

Percy supports Smith funding

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

State and federal officials are optimistic about obtaining a $2.5 million grant to help reopen the A. O. Smith Corp. automotive frame plant in Granite City. That word came following a meeting hosted in Washington, D. C., by Sen. Charles H. Percy.

Percy provided a common meeting ground Friday for county officials to talk with federal administrators of Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) funds being eyed by local economic developers.

The senator called the county's project "one of the most worthwhile applications I have ever seen since the inception of the UDAG program." According to a spokesman for the senator, every UDAG project in which Sen. Percy has shown an interest has been granted.

A final decision on the grant is expected in about two weeks. The county is in competition with other communities throughout the country for the quarterly allocated funds that are not sufficient to cover all project requests.

If the county's application is successful, the $2.5 million grant will be loaned at a rate lower than current market levels to A. O. Smith for equipment purchases. The loan will supplement a $24 million private investment by the company that is expected to be financed through lower-interest industrial revenue bonds sponsored by Granite City.

The UDAG program would provide the residual effect of forming a county

Maeras is sentenced to four-year term

Jerry S. Maeras, 49, of Madison, has been sentenced to serve four years in federal custody and fined $5,000 for his role in the swindle of the $3,000 and $5,000 stock brokerage in St. Louis.

U.S. District Judge William L. Hungate also ordered Maeras, former tax collector of Venice Township, to serve five years of probation after his imprisonment and to pay a $5,000 fine.

Prior to being sentenced, Maeras pointed out that he has "cooperated 100 percent" with government investigators and that he, his family and friends have already gone through a great deal of shame since word of his involvement in the brokerage swindle became public.

Maeras' wife, Sally, and daughter, Tammy, were in the courtroom during the sentencing.

Maeras told authorities he helped create a $150,000 loan to Stix with funds Thomas R. Brimberry of Granite City, then senior vice president of Stix, allegedly misappropriated from the company. Maeras also allegedly failed to report on his income tax return $18,500 in interest income from that loan.

He also told authorities that he opened two brokerage accounts in Las Vegas with a half-million dollars he ob-

SIUE may discontinue basketball

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

A decision whether Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will continue its men's basketball program will be made this week, officials said.

The fate of the program has been reviewed since May 13, when SIUE

President Earl Lazerson announced that the school would not seek National Collegiate Athletic Association Division I status. SIUE currently has Division II status in basketball.

Sources told the Press-Record that a decision already was made to drop the program for one year, but Steve Weller, SIUE sports information director, said that was an unverified rumor.

On Friday, Weller said he talked to Lazerson "yesterday and he said a decision has not been made yet."

The possibility that the program will be dropped for one year is an apparent consideration of university officials and Weller said attempts to schedule basketball games with other Division II teams will be a key factor in the decision.

When basketball scheduling was done for the upcoming season, plans were under way for the 1976 Citizens of the Year award. The SIUE basketball schedule consisted primarily of Division I teams.

According to NCAA rules, a Division I team, or one seeking that status, must schedule all but four games against other Division I schools.

Conversely, a Division II school must play all but four games against teams with that status.

Weller said that most of SIUE's scheduled basketball games against Division I teams have been cancelled. Coach Tom Pugliese and assistant John Ruby are trying to find enough Division II schools in the area with open dates to reschedule for the season, Weller said. "They've called virtually every Division II school within a 200-mile radius," he explained.

Besides the success of rescheduling, the response of the basketball players will be a "big factor" in the fate of the team, Weller said.

The team boycotted the spring athletic banquet to protest Lazerson's decision to remain in Division II.

When that decision was made, it also was announced that Eldon Bigham, SIUE athletic director, was being reassigned to a teaching position. Bigham also did not attend the athletic banquet, contending he was told he would not be welcome.

He has indicated that he might file a lawsuit against the university.

Dr. James Buck, who was director of planning and development, was named athletic director.

The proposed Division I status change was supported by Bigham, who was instrumental in initiating plans for the move, which was to coincide with the opening of the Multi-Purpose Facility.

The facility, which cost $11.8 million, is expected to open in late summer and contains a swimming pool, a basketball court, racquetball courts, men's and women's locker room facilities, weight machines and a classroom and office wing.

Last summer, Bigham said that SIUE would seek Division I status and the basketball schedule was made ac-

Rutherfords Pontoon Citizens of the Year

Arnold and Etta Rutherford, active residents of Pontoon Beach since 1949, were named the village's Citizens of the Year for 1983 by the Pontoon Beach Lions Club Saturday evening.

They are the eighth couple to receive the high honor since the club began its annual Community Awards dinner in 1977. At the first dinner, Otto and Corine Anderson were selected the 1976 Citizens of the Year. Subsequent honorees were John and Irene Karlechik in 1977, Andy and JoAnn Bukovac in 1978, Chester and Thelma Dean in 1979, Harry and Pauline Briggs in 1980, Chester and Leora Anderson in 1981 and Edgar and Sylvia Patrick in 1982.

According to the club, all have made significant contributions to the growth and quality of life in Pontoon Beach during their many years of residence there.

The Rutherfords have been active in the village for many years. Arnold has been a member of the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department since 1959, holding various offices, including chief and assistant chief. He is a member of the Madison County Firefighters' Association, Illinois Firefighters' Association and Illinois Fire Chiefs' Association. He also is a board member to the Trust and Pension Board of the Madison County Firefighters' Association.

He was elected and served as precinct committeeman of Nameski Township's Precinct Eight for eight years.

According to the Lions, Rutherford was a leading figure in organizing the Pontoon Beach Public Water District and was appointed as a trustee, winning reappointment in 1982.

He is a past commander of VFW Post 6762, Long Lake Amvets Post 187 and a member of American Legion Post 113, Masonic Lodge 877, the Scottish Rite, Valley of Southern Illinois and Ainal Temple Shrine.

He is retired from Vesci Distributing, Inc., and currently is the assistant manager of the Madison County Firemen's Hall in Collinsville.

Etta Rutherford has been president of the Long Lake Amvets Post 187 Auxiliary, has served as a precinct committeewoman and is in the Long Lake Firefighters' Ladies Auxiliary.

She has been employed 23 years as a cashier in a local grocery store.

The Rutherfords have three daughters and five grandchildren. After receiving the award and trophy, Mr. Rutherford told friends sitting with them, "I didn't think we did anything outstanding, we just made our home here."

The other high honor of the night, the

Change Venice senior citizen center plans

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

A revised architect's sketch of the new Venice Senior Community Center to include a six-foot canopy over the entrance door leading to a driveway was shown by Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols to aldermen and residents at last week's city council meeting.

An exterior canopy was proposed to provide weather protection for senior citizens arriving by car or bus. The suggestion was incorporated into the building plans after the original drawing was approved.

To permit use of a shorter canopy, the building was relocated on the site with the entrance door now facing southwest toward the corner of Brown and Klein Streets, as opposed to directly west fronting Klein.

The revised plans also include a short driveway across the corner of the property and eliminates the need for a 30-foot canopy, which previously was necessary to reach the entrance from Klein, the mayor explained.

Construction of a new senior community center was approved Dec. 14 after a public hearing on the proposition to combine $73,000 in residents who debated the issue of using community development funds in a live-in two-hour session.

The upshot was an agreement to combine $73,000 in community development money with $109,000 previously earmarked for the building's construction.

Throughout the planning stages, Mayor Echols has stated repeatedly that overall cost for the new building should remain below the $200,000 mark. The need to keep expense at a minimum was the basis for the current changes.

In other business, Second Ward Alderman George Mangiaracino was sworn in to office by Venice City Clerk Dewey Brawley.

The alderman resumed his council duties this week upon recuperating from an illness. He was hospitalized at the time three other aldermanic winners were officially seated after the April 12 election.

Mayor Echols reported the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors of St. Clair, Madison and Monroe Counties will hold its annual installation of officers and ladies night Wednesday, June 22, at the Sunset Hills

Chamber welcomes college

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce has declared June as Granite City Center (GCC) month.

The chamber, under the leadership of William P. Donovan, welcomed the new community college extension center to Granite City.

The center, located at the former Granite City High School North campus, was taken over by College District 522 on June 1 and will offer its first courses in August when the fall semester begins.

Bellefonte area College President Dr. Bruce R. Wissore and GCC Provost Dr. Frank Gornick were on hand for the recognition.

"We are pleased to have the opportunity to work with the Chamber and with the people of Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell," Dr. Wissore said.

"The state's failure to support education now will result in sacrificing the future of Illinois. They are inextricably tied together."

"Without an underpinning of a strong, viable education system, Illinois will find it more and more difficult to attract business and industry, and to flourish as a significant economic and industrial power."

"Our attention now is focused on improving the quality of education in Illinois. All our efforts will be in vain without money for our schools to provide children the kind of high-quality programs and teachers they deserve."

"Excitement in education must be our number one priority. Without it, we may not have anything else."

Course offerings have been designed to provide students with skills needed in today's job market.

Emphasis is on high-technology programs, including data processing, word processing and electronics.

The provost added, "These are complemented by a full selection of university transfer courses. Such courses let students complete the first two years of their bachelor's degrees."

"Classes range from mathematics, for those planning to study engineering, to core courses—such as English and foreign languages—for students planning to major in a variety of fields."

"Social science courses, including sociology and psychology, also will be offered."

"We are asking that interested residents register now. For information and to register, they may call 451-0120."

Governor James R. Thompson has warned the Illinois General Assembly he will take stern measures if the legislature fails to send him a balanced budget by June 30. He says the Assembly should "raise" new revenues or make appropriate cuts in state programs.

In a letter to legislative leaders last week Thompson said if the legislature fails to act, he will take the following action:

—Call the Assembly into special session July 1 with specific instructions to present the governor with a balanced budget for fiscal 1984.

—Delay any appropriation bill for any branch or agency of state government until the legislature acts.

—Ask the legislature to pass "the substantive law necessary to allow a no-tax increase budget to be implemented, or take down appropriations if they choose not to pass the substantive law changes, or pass new revenue measures so the budget can be balanced."

"After July 1, and until a balanced budget is adopted, state government will be forced to operate without appropriation authority. I will not request that the comptroller continue processing payrolls and other vouchers in the absence of acceptable appropriation bills supported by credible revenue assumptions," the governor said.

"If action is completed by June 24, much of the pain can be eliminated. Action on still give the state sufficient time to rescind these actions, and normal operations would still be possible.

"If you decide to pass new revenues after June 24, normal operations will be disrupted, some of which are irretrievable."

He said delay would cause the following steps to be taken, among others:

1. Employee transfers and equipment removal from all general assistance (public aid) offices will begin.

2. General assistance check vouchers, normally processed and issued during the first few days of July normally take eight processing days. If an appropriation is not approved by the Assembly until July 1, substantive checks to 139,000 Illinois citizens will be "significantly delayed."

3. Corrections work-release beds totaling 325 will be terminated, and 68 juveniles and work release inmates will be transferred to state prisons or early-released during the last week in June.

4. Employees terminated effective June 30 or July 1 pursuant to earlier notices cannot be recalled, and can only be rehired through appropriate eligibility lists.

As a final note, it is important for you to know that even with a balanced budget for fiscal 1984, with or without new taxes, and without new cash flow problems for the first six to eight months of the new fiscal year.

The governor asked the legislature to respond quickly, and concluded:

"We have entered a strong partnership in dealing with our state's fiscal condition. I am anxious that we continue to work together to develop a responsible financial plan for our state."

Don't overreact at the university

Without attempting to assess all that has been right or wrong about Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville sports, many citizens hope the university can keep a clear head during the current "agonizing reappraisal" and avoid overreacting to the admitted, obvious problems.

SIUE "solved" difficulties associated with the Mississippi River Festival summer concert series by eliminating the MRF. We don't want any more expert surgery of the kind that wins applause for artful dexterity but kills the patient. Yet, some of the same administrators have been called into action.

Academic effectiveness is what a university is all about. But many fine schools have found they can pursue more than one goal at a time; they combine teaching excellence, their chief responsibility, with a quality athletic program that includes recreation, physical fitness and varsity and intramural competition.

The budget squeeze undeniably is intense, and nobody's crystal ball can yet predict how much state revenue will be available in 1983-84 and the following years. But this is not an appropriate time to apply finger to "panic button."

A controversial decision already has been made—to back away from National Collegiate Athletic Association Division I plans and retain Division II status. Now, many fear—correctly or incorrectly—that turmoil and self-abasement could tumble the university out of Division II and into Division III, and-or bring about a long cessation—or the death—of various sports and activity programs.

An outstanding new physical education building is to open this fall after its opening this spring was postponed. This region of Illinois is one of the most outstanding in the nation in terms of individual skills and team accomplishments. These are two big plus factors that should not be ignored as irrelevant to the university's intellectual aspirations.

We would like to see SIUE:

1. Deal forthrightly with whatever past ills are being uncovered.
2. Avoid resorting to the type of stultifyingly exhaustive studies, the kind of costly searches that create "paralysis of the analysis." Studying an issue to death can indefinitely delay constructive remedies.
3. Take a positive, confident approach about both the present and coming years. The university should not sacrifice today's students' opportunities on the altar of future pristine perfection.

Congress, Fed torpedoed budget

Guest comment by Prof. Paul C. Roberts of Georgetown University—Some Congressional Democrats' tax increase argument is that we must raise taxes in order than politicians can continue to spend. For them, there are only two alternatives—borrowing more or raising taxes higher. Controlling spending is not in their lexicon.

As the Feb. 18, 1981, document that introduced the President's economic program states clearly, the balanced budget projected for 1984 was conditional on reducing federal spending to 19.3 percent of GNP (gross national product) in 1984. Instead, federal spending has grown to 24.3 percent.

Despite the recession, revenues as a percent of GNP average higher in the 1980s than in the 1970s, so there has been no erosion of the tax base, just an explosion of the spending. The balanced budget was also conditional on a monetary policy that was not delivered.

The main experiment conducted in Washington for the last three years is monetary policy. Supply-side economists warned that tax cuts could not cause an economic boom in the face of recessionary monetary policy.

An undisputed empirical fact is that the Federal Reserve gave the Reagan administration one of the tightest monetary policies of the postwar period; this policy bears no resemblance to the policy requested by the administration and it put the economy into a deep recession prior to the tax cuts going into effect.

Then in the middle of the recession, the tax cut for business was essentially repealed. This tax increase was supposed to lower the deficit; instead, the deficit doubled.

The Treasury protested publicly the tight money in 1981 and I told Congress in advance that the deficit would get worse if taxes were raised. Tax cuts do not cause recessions.

The large scary figures for federal borrowing as a percentage of the credit market include more than $100 billion annually in government loan guarantees and off-budget borrowing that politicians use to hide how much they are really spending.

All of this borrowing is independent of both the level of taxation and the deficit, and is directly under the control of Congress. Higher taxes would do nothing to reduce the pressure of these off-budget activities on the credit market.

Museum to set off river, Arch?

Should the Smithsonian Institute operate a museum of American culture and anthropology on the riverfront opposite the Gateway Arch? Congressmen Paul Simon and Melvin Price think it should, and have obtained House subcommittee approval of $100,000 to study its feasibility.

The project envisions a display of truly national and world significance.

The study would determine, among other points, who should operate the building. The congressmen favor the highly-regarded Smithsonian organization.

With vast museum space already established in the nation's capital, why a new site on the Mississippi River? As Simon sees it, "If you stand here, across from the Arch, you can see it is one of the most valuable pieces of property in the nation."

"Its development can help the whole area. There is the prospect of tremendous financial return, if it is developed well and if money is appropriated. It could be one of the great tourist attractions in the nation. Washington is way off at one end of the country; the Arch signifies the 'gateway to the West,' the point through which many cultures have passed."

"I visited Katherine Dunham's little Afro-American museum in East St. Louis and it struck me that we're a nation of Afro-Americans, Polish-Americans—all kinds of cultures. We ought to have a great museum that would show our culture's diversity so we can learn more about others and more about what our own culture has contributed to our nation."

Tom Walsh of the Metro Area Rail Gateway Enterprise thinks the plan would fit in well with MARGE efforts to redevelop the riverfront and move railroad yards. He adds, "If they are going to expand the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial to this side of the river, we're going to need an attraction such as the proposed museum. It could be a place for indoor and outdoor exhibits, plays and other cultural events."

"The Gateway Center of St. Louis, which has bought 50 acres of riverfront land, supports the museum idea." A flag and 100-foot flagpole have been installed at this site to mark initial development.

Would it really make sense to invest in a $5 million-plus museum "to pull together all the various ethnic roots of all Americans," a structure perhaps resembling the Museum of Anthropology in Mexico City?

Hindsight certainly has proven the massive drawing power of the Arch itself, which attracted its share of skeptics and opponents when proposed. Many thought a parking lot made a lot more sense.

Wants levee district commissioners on ballot

To the Editor:

I am a taxpayer and a voter in the Tri-Cities Area. For the last few weeks, I have been reading about the Metro-East Sanitary District president who has been charged by our state's attorney with conspiracy to commit bribery. Ever since I have been in this area, the East Side Levee District has not changed. It seems like we change the name to Metro-East Sanitary District for a new breath of fresh air. But we forgot, it's not the name we need to change, but it is these people that are bringing shame and a bad name to our district, they need to go.

We as citizens need to ask that these Metro-East Sanitary commissioners be elected by the people instead of some political county chairman. This board is different from the old East Side Levee. I wish we could get this put back on the ballot. Whoever reads this article, will you please write how this can be done? TAXPAYER AND VOTER

Residents want an open storm sewer eliminated

Sixth Ward Aldermen Woodrow "Woody" Moad and Stephen Sathie will present the Granite City Council with a petition containing 208 signatures to eliminate an open storm sewer.

The petition drive was started by Don Conley, 2504 Northridge, and was signed by both aldermen and by Nelson Hagmann, precinct committeeman and chairman of the Madison County Board.

The petition calls for the elimination of an open storm sewer that runs parallel to Northridge in the Lexington Subdivision. The storm sewer overflows into backyards of residents when it rains, they said.

Reinstalling the sewer in enclosed form to allow proper drainage is asked for in the petition.

Further, the petition requests that the storm sewer be inspected, maintained, cleaned and treated with insecticide on a weekly basis until it is replaced.

The petition says that the sewer "presents a serious health hazard to the entire population of the city, due to stagnant water which provides a breeding ground for approximately 1,500 feet in length for mosquitoes." The petition also says the residents want to eliminate flooding of residential property that occurs "after every rainfall."

Mark Lee Brandon, 27, of 2003 E. 20th St. was charged with property damage a short time after the left glass door was broken in the Edison Avenue entrance of the City Hall at 2:10 a.m. Friday.

Treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for a cut on his left arm, Brandon said he had been trying to summon someone he had seen inside the City Hall and inadvertently struck the door too hard. His auto had run out of gasoline and he was carrying a full two-gallon fuel container.

Nameoki debates I-255

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Nameoki Township officials have been asked to consider a resolution opposing the proposed final link of Interstate 255.

The township board of trustees took no formal action on the request from Larry Firkus of Save American Bottoms Essential Resources (SABER), one of the most vocal groups opposing the interstate's construction.

Supervisor Harry Briggs, who first adjourned last week's town board meeting before allowing Firkus to speak, and Trustee Helen Hawkins, who opposed the adjournment arguing that the comments should be a matter of township record, both seemed to agree that a resolution should be considered.

The Pontoon Beach Village Board of Trustees passed such a resolution Dec. 14, 1982, making it the first, and so far, only municipality to formally oppose I-255.

The Madison County Board, Glen Carbon and Edwardsville city council, and the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors have passed resolutions supporting the final link.

The Southwestern Illinois Building Trades Council also has given strong support to the project. Dean Turner, secretary-treasurer of the council, urged support of the project at a meeting last week in Collinsville.

Besides SABER and Pontoon Beach, the Madison County Farm Bureau and the Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District form the nucleus of opposition, which has been growing at a lesser rate than those going on record to support the project.

Firkus blames the misconception that SABER is against progress for the apparent lack of support in opposing the planned 5.5 mile stretch that will link I-55-70 near Collinsville with I-270 east of St. Louis.

"We are not against progress," he told the trustees. Instead, SABER, and others opposing the final link, support improvements of existing highways including Illinois 157, 159, 111 and Route 3. They contend improvements would be less costly than the final link, for which Gov. James Thompson has approved $90 million.

Pontoon Beach officials are concerned that I-255 would hurt businesses located on 111, said Mary Warren, city clerk.

SABER contends that the Quad-Cities area would be harmed, because businesses and residents would move to the I-255 area.

"I think it will further depress the Granite City area," Firkus told the Press-Record.

The Illinois Department of Transportation, however, told the county board it would keep people and businesses from moving to the I-255 area through proper zoning.

Firkus admitted that zoning could possibly control such a move, but added, "It seems like people get to go wherever they want to."

Real problems would occur later, after businesses and homes have built in the area of I-255, because the land there is a flood plain, he said.

Drainage hassles are a prime argument SABER has against the interstate because the area often is flooded when it rains. IDOT officials have told him that the final link, which would run through the American Bottoms, would be elevated about six feet to keep it

But opponents warn that the same thing will happen to I-255 as is occurring on I-270 across about a three-mile stretch between Routes 111, 157 and where the ground is "heaving."

Poor soil conditions have caused the heaving, which leaves I-270 "rough and bumpy" where it crosses the American Bottoms. That stretch recently has been under repair, but the condition persists, opponents said.

Firkus also told the trustees that feasibility studies for I-255 are inaccurate because projected population increases did not occur. In fact, the populations of Granite City and other Metro-East areas decreased.

Further, he said, enrollment at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is down. SIUE would be a prime beneficiary of the final link, making campus more accessible to students living in the Fairview Heights and Collinsville areas, supporters argue.

By improving existing roads, the same needs of the area would be met and jobs also would be created, he said.

"The dark horse in all of this could be Route 3," he said. Until it passes McKinley Bridge, Route 3 is four lanes, he said.

Firkus added that right-of-way already exists to widen Highway 111 to four lanes on each side.

Mainly, Firkus appealed to the trustees from the township point of view, but SABER also argues that 437 acres of prime farmland in the American Bottoms will be lost. Township officials did not indicate when, or if, they might formally consider a resolution to express their opinion about the final link.

'Summit' meeting today on tax hike proposal

Governor James R. Thompson announced Thursday that he has called for a "summit" meeting at the Executive Mansion with legislative leaders today to discuss current income tax proposals.

"I commend House Minority Leader Daniels for outlining his proposal for increasing revenues needed to provide necessary services for our people. With his announcement this morning, all four of the leaders now agree that an income tax increase is necessary. At our meeting Monday, we can discuss our differences and make clear our areas of mutual agreement," the governor said.

"The plan I have put forward has the support of both Senate leaders and will meet our needs without excessive spending. I support that plan. But as I have said since the tax increase was first proposed six months ago, I am willing to listen to other plans."

Thompson said the meeting would include Daniels, Senate President Philip Rock, Senate Minority Leader James "Pete" Philip and House Speaker Michael Madigan.

Triplets win one, lose one by walks

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record
ALTON — Walks and errors. They make you or break you every time. The Tri-City American Legion were made and broken by walks and errors Thursday and Saturday in a pair of District 22 baseball games.

Thursday, the Triplets demolished Belleville 10-4 with a 13-run fifth inning at Granite City North. Saturday, two Triplet errors set up all of Alton's runs and Alton won that game 9-5 at Gordon Moore Park.

Tri-City, now 7-4 overall and 6-3 in District 22 play, has been surprising in spite of their lack of depth. At no time have they been more surprising than in Thursday's game with Belleville.

"It was a wild one," Tri-City Manager Larry Corey said. "Nothing could have been wilder than the Triplets' fifth inning Thursday. Tri-City scored 11 runs before Belleville managed to get one out. Sacrifices bunts became hits, and the walks kept mounting. Tripled, catcher Daren DePew was up to bat three times that inning."

The biggest hit of the inning was Rick Dally's three-run homer. The most surprising thing about the Triplets' massive scoring attack was that Tri-City had 15 hits the entire game.

Almost everyone got into the hitting action. Dally was 4-4 with the homer and a two-run triple in the second inning. Mitt Roe picked up three RBIs with a pair of singles. DePew had two doubles, Brian Levin added two more hits, and John Linhart, Vince Mitchell and Kevin Patterson added RBI singles.

Mike Zukas pitched the entire game for the Triplets. Although he struck out only two batters, his control was excellent. Only three Belleville players walked.

Saturday was a different story. The Triplets gave Alton the game. All nine runs Alton scored were unearned.

"That was it right there. Two errors and the walks killed us. We should have won two of three of the league games we've lost so far," Corey said.

Undoubtedly, the Alton game was one of the two Triplets should have taken.

After Karl Headland popped to center for the first out of the second inning, Tri-City pitcher Dan Whitsett gave up a double to Dave Stupperich and walks to Jim Fischer and Marty Johns.

The play that gave the game to Alton was a Texas League fly in left field. Roe, the left fielder, Dave Sheik, the center fielder, and Levin, the shortstop, couldn't decide who was going to catch it. Levin then decided to take things in his own hand, but he dropped the ball, allowing Stupperich to score.

Had one of the fielders been able to catch the ball, the inning would have been over with the next batter. Whitsett struck out the next batter, Jon Schultz.

Instead there were only two outs, and Alton blasted away at the Triplets. Eric File, the next batter, doubled home three runs. Whitsett then walked Jeff Juhlin and Dan Hopkins to load the bases again.

Whitsett left the mound and Patterson took over. Headland walked to force in another run, and Dave Stupperich doubled in two more runs to give Alton a 7-0 lead.

In fact, the three hits Alton got that inning were the only hits it had in the game. From the third inning on, Patterson held Alton hitless.

Alton's sixth inning runs were also unearned. Schultz and Juhlin both walked, and both scored on a throwing error by Roe.

No one could accuse Tri-City of quitting when the chips were down. In the fourth inning, Levin, Dally, Linhart, Mitchell and Patterson put together the sacrifice fly to centerfield for another RBI.

Whitsett walked and scored on a grounder by Linhart in the seventh, and the Triplets had the tying run at the plate but did nothing more.

Alton, which was one of the preseason favorites to win the District 22 North Division, is only 4-4 in the district. That, and the way Alton has been playing, has disturbed Alton Manager Jesse Hopkins.

"Wasn't that a sloppy thing (the game)?" Hopkins said. "We really didn't play very well at all. Our pitching isn't what it's supposed to be, and our hitting hasn't come around that well."

Although Alton will host the 1983 American Legion State Tournament and earn a spot in the tournament, Hopkins doesn't feel the lackluster play is due to that fact.

NOTES: The Triplets only had nine players at Saturday's game. DePew played at the National Sports Festival Baseball Tournament at Colorado Springs, Colo., during the weekend.

"I think it's a shame that Granite wasn't able to have all of the best players there. With all of the talent from the two schools, they should be able to have a bigger team than what they do," Hopkins said.

NAMAR midget win goes to Schrader

GRANITE CITY — Cars came from Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and even one from New Zealand to try to win the NAMAR Midget Nationals in Saturday at Tri-City Speedway.

However, Kenny Schrader of Fenton, Mo., wouldn't let them steal a win in the feature race at his home track.

Schrader's win snapped Steve Knepper's string of four victories. Knepper, the fastest qualifier, was third in the feature after starting in the ninth position.

Rich Vogler, who came in second, closed an eighth of a mile in the last five laps to challenge Schrader after getting a slow start in the middle of the pack.

Rounding out the top 10 were J.R. Miller, Paul Clark, Ted Tracy, Danny Frye, Jerry Russell, Dave Winrow and Gary Hayes.

Kevin Doty won the semis with Ron Robinson in second and Bob Shutz in third.

Terry Wentle, Greg Nelson, Vogler and Knepper won heat races.

Friday, Knepper won the Midgite feature race at the speedway in an exciting finish. Knepper started in the

DePew, Mitchell, Zukas help North All-Stars

By STEVE WHITWORTH
of the Press-Record
ALTON — Maybe, it was the way it should have ended. After having a game of winners it seemed odd fitting that there should be no losers.

After eight innings of Friday evening's American Legion District 22 All-Star Game held at Gordon Moore Park in Alton, the stars from the South and those from the North had managed only one run apiece. With the USA and Korean national teams scheduled to play later, the officials decided to call the game a tie.

"It was kind of fun that it ended this way," said Mike Zukas of the Tri-City team, who pitched for the North squad. "Of course, I'd rather have won."

Zukas saw action in the sixth inning, when he retired three South squad hitters on just four pitches. He was one of three Tri-City stars on the North team.

MAKING HIS POINT: Dennis Gurkin, manager of the Granite City Chiefs, discusses a play with pitcher Mike McPherson during the second game of an Inter-City League double header with Maryville Sunday at Wilson Park. McPherson overthrew second base on a pickoff play at second to warrant the visit. However, the Chiefs split with Maryville, losing the first game 6-5 and winning the second game 6-1.

McDonald's, Nationals split

By STEVE WHITWORTH
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — It finally rained on the Edwardsville Nationals' parade Sunday.

The front-runners in the Inter-City League, Edwardsville defeated the Nationals, 9-8, in the first game of a double-header to end their season's mark to 13-9. But, the visitors wallowed the Nationals in the nightcap, 7-2, to hand them their first loss of the year.

"It's a wonder we didn't lose both of them," said Joe Mueller, coach of the Nationals. "We didn't play well."

The opener was a back-and-forth contest. McDonald's struck for two runs in the top of the first when second baseman Kevin Sykes walked, stole second and came home on left fielder Danny Schaus' single. Schaus moved to second on the throw home, took third on a grounder out by shortstop Fred Mc

Clary and scored on a grounder out by third baseman John Vrenick.

McDonald's pitcher Keith Burton held the Edwardsville squad until the third inning. In that frame, National third baseman Dave Krause doubled with one out. Right fielder John Wood followed with an RBI triple. Center fielder Jamie Semanish followed with a grounder to third, but Vrenick threw wildly to first, and Wood scored.

Semanish stole second and scored on a single by second baseman Bruce Pfeiffer.

McDonald's tied the score at 3-3 in the top of the fourth. McClary led off with a single to right that Wood misplayed, allowing the hitter to go all the way to third. One out later, McClary scored on a grounder out by right fielder Ken Wilson.

Rick Fletcher broke the tie in the bottom of the inning. The National catcher led off with a home run to right, center field to make the score 4-3.

Edwardsville seemed to be breaking the game wide-open in the bottom of the fifth. Wood doubled with one out and stole third. After Semanish struck out, Pfeiffer jerked a homer down the left field line to make the score 6-3.

But, McDonald's came back to tie the score in the sixth. With one out, McClary doubled and scored on Vrenick's single. With two outs, Vrenick scored on a triple by first baseman John Linhart. A single by designated hitter Al Yount drove in Linhart to tie the score.

McDonald's brought in Vrenick to relieve starter Keith Burton in the sixth. Burton struck out six and walked none, but he gave up eight hits and six runs in his five innings.

Fletcher greeted Vrenick with a double and designated hitter Rusty Burian walked. The runners moved on to a wild pitch and both scored on a single by pinch-hitter Mike Robertson.

McDonald's brought in Vrenick to relieve starter Pat Braun in the seventh with Duane Rosecrans. Braun walked one and struck out nine in six innings, allowing seven hits and six runs.

With their backs to the wall, McDonald's came back to tie the score at 8-8. Center fielder Pat Hogan led off with a double, took third on a wild pitch and scored on a sacrifice fly by Sykes.

Schaus then belted a homer to left to knot the score.

But, the Nationals pulled it out in the bottom of the seventh. Semanish led off with a single. He moved to third when catcher Steve Flecker of McDonald's misplayed Pfeiffer's bunt. Shortstop Dan Alarria then plugged the gap in left with the game-winning single.

In the second game, McDonald's once again jumped into the lead. This time, they stayed on top. Hogan led off, reaching base on an error by Pfeiffer. He stole second and took third on a wild pitch. He scored when Pfeiffer made another error on a grounder by Vrenick.

Tim Kirksey, who started for McDonald's, held the Nationals until the third. Shortstop Mike Anderson led a single off the pitching rubber with two out, stole second and took third on a wild pitch. Pfeiffer singled him home.

McDonald's took the lead again in the top of the fourth off National starter Glenn Murphy. With one out, Yount walked and moved to second on Wilson's grounder. Flecker then singled to drive him in.

The visitors broke the game open in the fifth as they sent 10 batters to the plate. Hogan walked and scored on McClary's double. Rosecrans came in for the Nationals to pitch to Vrenick, who doubled McClary home, moved to third on Linhart's infield single and scored on a wild pitch. After Yount singled, Linhart scored on a bunt single by Wilson to make the score 6-1.

McDonald's added an insurance tally in the seventh when Yount and Wilson doubled back-to-back.

Fletcher of the Nationals belted his second homer of the afternoon in the bottom of the seventh, but it was too little, too late. Edwardsville was a loser for the first time this year.

"We played so badly, we made more errors today than we made all season," Mueller said.

"Tim Kirksey is a good pitcher and had a good game. He won a lot for us last year," Harris said.

"We played so badly, we made more errors today than we made all season," Mueller said.

"This loss might have been the best thing for us," Mueller reflected. "Maybe, it will take the cockiness out of some of our guys."

Chiefs pick up second victory

By BELINDA CONLEY
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Chiefs and the Maryville Red Sox split a double-header in Inter-City League play at Wilson Park Sunday.

Granite City pitcher Darrell Harris had a good game, striking out six and walking only two while giving up only seven hits, but Maryville still edged the Chiefs 6-5 in the first game. The Chiefs won the second game 6-1.

Granite City took the lead early when Ron Pinkston hit a solo home run in the second. With Harris pitching a no-hitter for three innings, it appeared the Chiefs would have an easy time with the first game.

However, Maryville tied the game in the fourth inning when Randy Wilke doubled to right center field and scored on a single by Ray Perry.

Maryville took the lead in the top of the fifth. Randy Scown walked with one out and went to second on an error by second baseman Rob Ficker. Mark Bonebrake tripled to send Scown home and then scored himself on a single out by shortstop Randy Robbins.

Dan Hamilos hit a single to right center, and he and Robbins scored on a homerun by Wilke.

Granite City refused to go down without a fight. With the score 6-3 in the seventh, the Chiefs rallied to come within one run of Maryville. Mike McPherson led off the inning with a single. He stole second, went to third on an infield out and scored on a sacrifice fly by Dennis Gurkin.

Dominic Griffin and Darrell Harris and was replaced by Robbins. Robbins walked Ficker, sending Pinkston home and loading the bases.

That was all the Chiefs could do because Jeff Dalton struck out with the bases loaded and 'two out to end the game.

Maryville manager Randy Robbins said that his two best pitchers did not show up for the game, and this hurt the Sox. Dan Hamilos, who pitched the second game, had some trouble keeping the ball down in the strike zone.

Hamilos only walked two, but gave up ten hits and allowed six runs.

The Chiefs went ahead in the first inning and never gave up the lead. McPherson led off the game with a single, and Bruce Nation reached on an error by first baseman Scown. Gurkin sent McPherson and Nation home with a double, but was picked off at second.

Ron Pinkston singled for his third hit of the day. Maryville catcher dropped the third strike on Jim Small and Pinkston scored on the throw to first.

Maryville scored its only run in the top of the second, when Wilke walked and came home on an overthrow ball at second.

Leading 5-1, Granite City added the final run in the sixth, when Pinkston, who was 3-for-4 in the second game and 5-for-8 for the day, got his second RBI of the day by sending home Gurkin with a single to left field.

The Chiefs are now 2-8 for the season. They will play a p.m. double-header against Edwardsville next Sunday at Wilson Park.

USA wins series from Koreans

By STEVE WHITWORTH
of the Press-Record

ALTON — Baseball is said to be the national sport of the United States. But judging from the ability of the Korean national all-star team, baseball fever is not the exclusive province of North America.

The Koreans brought their energetic and entertaining brand of baseball to Gordon Moore Park Friday night as they squared off with the USA all-star team in the fifth game of their seven-game exhibition series in the St. Louis metropolitan area. The USA squad prevailed by a margin of 7-3, but the Koreans succeeded in gaining the respect of the Alton crowd.

The game began with the series tied at 2-2. The Koreans started Hak-Kil Yoon, a hard-throwing right-hander. The Americans went with John Hoover, a tall righty from Fresno State, a squad that has won the national title.

The Americans touched Yoon for two runs in the bottom of the first. Shortstop Bill Wrona of Miami (Fla.) University walked to lead off. Second baseman Keith Miller of Oral Roberts forced him at second. Center fielder Eric Fox of Fresno State then belted one over the fence in left center to give the USA a 2-0 lead.

The USA team picked up a couple of tainted runs in the second. Designated hitter John Caimanillo of Providence College singled to lead off, and second baseman Min-Ho Kim walked to second on a ground out by third baseman Randy Asador of Fresno State. Left fielder Jeff Paul of Maine doubled and Caimanillo went to third. Both runners scored when Yoon threw wildly to third in an attempt to pick Caimanillo off.

The Americans scored two runs again in the third. Miller walked and took second on a wild pitch. Fox reached first on a fielder's choice and Miller took third. Fox stole second and both runners scored on a single by catcher John Marzano of Temple.

Korea relieved with Sang-Koon Lee. He did not throw as hard as Yoon, but he milled his way to second and shut down the Americans until the eighth inning.

In the meantime, Hoover held the Koreans hitless until the seventh inning. In that frame, first baseman Min-Ho Kim walked to lead off and took second when catcher Young-Sun Kim singled for the first Korean hit.

Designated hitter Ki-Ung Kang doubled to drive the lead runner in and move Y.S. Kim to third. Second baseman Kyung-Pyo Kim singled, scoring Y.S. Kim and moving Kang to third. Kang scored when shortstop Joong-Il Yoo hit into a double play.

The United States ended up winning the series between the two teams 4-2-1. The final game of the series, held at Busch Stadium in St. Louis, ended in a 3-3 tie because of rain.

The United States won game six on Saturday 6-4 to clinch the series. Korea won the first two games but the USA team took the next four.

Granite City, MAC Junior Legions win

The Junior American Legion baseball team kept its perfect conference record intact, taking two games from the Belleville Junior Legion, 15-5 and 11-3 at the Granite City High School varsity field.

The MAC Junior Legion team also was victorious, taking a 5-1 decision from the Alton Optimists Thursday.

Although Granite City pitchers, Rodney Sampson and Bobby Dietrich, allowed six hits in each of the two games, the tough defense kept Belleville from capitalizing.

The key to the team's successful season thus far, according to coach Kevin Sykes, is that the defense doesn't make many errors.

The team, he said, plays a form of "Whitley ball," made famous by Cardinals' manager Whitey Herzog. All of the same elements exist for the junior legion.

"We don't hit home runs.

We've only had one home run this year. We hit and run a lot. We steal a lot. We grind out our runs," he said.

The junior legionnaires were helped a bit by shaky Belleville pitching, particularly in the fourth inning of the first game when walks kept loading the bases.

Granite City was able to take a substantial lead with eight runs to top two scored in the third. Randy Thurman and Scott Cathey singled in the fourth. Pat Cathey, who had three RBIs on the day, doubled in the third for two runs.

Tom Adamitski also doubled in the fourth and was four for four in the first game.

Sampson went six innings in the first and was relieved by Kelly Krause. Although Sampson was pitching well, Sykes decided to bring him out because the heat was making him dizzy.

The weather was a factor in both games between the heat and the rain that started falling in the fourth inning of the second contest. The second game ended in the sixth when both coaches agreed to call it quits because of the steady drizzle.

The second game, which didn't count in the conference, showed Sykes a surprise in the form of pitcher Dietrich. It was Dietrich's first start and he went the distance.

"He surprised me," Sykes said.

The last time Dietrich played, against Troy, he pitched only one and a third innings and was battered by hits.

The defense also played well in the second game, although an error by Matt Roe at short set up two runs in the sixth.

Still, Sykes, who has been coaching the team alone this year, was pleased with his team's showing.

He said that Belleville had a disadvantage because the senior legion picked up the two top junior players. The Tri-City American Legion team has not picked up any players from his team yet.

"It makes us all that much tougher," he said.

The junior legion is 9-1 on the year and will play Highland Tuesday at home. The game will start at 7:30 p.m.

GRANITE CITY — Sam Tate, Greg Ehlers and Gerald Booker combined for a two-hitter to lead Mitchell Athletic Club Junior American Legion baseball team over Alton Optimists 5-1 Thursday at Granite City North.

Tate pitched the first five innings and allowed only one hit and one run. Ehlers took over in the sixth inning and pitched a scoreless eighth. The final inning and struck out two of the three batters he faced.

In his five innings, Tate also struck out seven batters. He also had control problems, walking four and giving up two wild pitches, but was able to stay out of trouble except for the fourth.

The game was scoreless for three innings, and in the fourth Alton's Jeff Wright walked, moved to second on a wild pitch, moved to third on a passed ball, and scored on a squeeze bunt by Jody Markel.

With Alton ahead 1-0, Doug came to life in the fifth. Doug Drube doubled to left field to lead off the inning, he scored on a wild pitch. Eric Mueller then hit a single and scored on a squeeze bunt by Tim Gray.

MAC continued to produce in the sixth inning. With two outs, Tate tripled to right, Eric Goff walked, and both runners scored on Drube's triple to right. Randy Burgess then singled, driving home Drube.

Thursday's game was a non-league game and does not count towards MAC's league record.

North All-Stars

He was joined by Darren DePew and Vince Mitchell.

The action that Zukas saw was typical of the pitchers for the North side. "Before the game, I found out that four of my kids had pitched seven innings in the two nights before," said Fred McClary, coach of the Troy Legion team who headed the North squad.

"So I asked Pete Deukas to pitch two to three innings, Collinsville to pitch two innings, because he hadn't pitched since the state tournament. After that, I just let my pitchers throw one inning each."

Whether the constant change of pitchers baffled the hitters or whether the players were too relaxed, neither side scored during the first seven innings. There were many sparkling fielding plays and a few good hits, but no runs.

DePew was the starting catcher for the North squad. He handled one pop fly in the field and grounded out to the pitcher in his one at-bat.

Mitchell appeared as North's designated hitter in the fifth inning, grounded out to third. However, he later contributed a key bunt.

In the top of the eighth, the South stars finally got a run on pitcher Mike Sykes of Highland. Larry Pierson of Waterloo led off with a double. He moved to third on a sacrifice bunt by Waterloo teammate Jeff Harris. He scored on a sacrifice fly by John Wahl of Marissa.

The South team batted back in the bottom of the inning. Brian Kasting of Bethalto reached first on an error. Tracy Roe of East Alton followed with an infield single, moving Kasting to second.

Mitchell laid down a successful bunt, advancing the runners. Shane Gibbs of East Alton was intentionally walked. Then, with Ed Barrett of Bethalto batting, Harris of the South squad threw a wild pitch, allowing Kasting to score.

That was the only run the North could manage, however, and the game was called because of the commitment to the international game that was to follow.

Perhaps, no one was satisfied, but no one was really disappointed either.

"It's a nice honor to play with all these people," said Mitchell. "This is the best talent around southern Illinois." "It was fun talking to the guys from other teams," Zukas said.

"I really enjoyed it," echoed DePew.

"You want to win, but you also want to give the kids an opportunity to be seen," said McClary. "We had our pitchers out there for just an inning apiece and that might have made it hard for the hitters, because they only had the chance to see them once."

However, McClary seemed satisfied with the outcome. "It was a well-played ball game," he said.

Bell transfers to Cougars' women's soccer squad

EDWARDSVILLE — Susan Bell, a Granite City South High School graduate, has signed a national letter of intent to play for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's soccer team.

She is a double transfer from Eastern Illinois

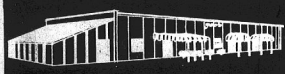

University and Lindenwood College. Bell, a four-year varsity tennis player and three-time letter-winner in basketball at South, comes to SIUE after being named to the U.S. College Select Soccer Team which toured Europe in 1982.

In 1981, she was named to the Illinois Select Team and was a member of the Granite City Indoor Soccer Club which finished fourth in the national championships in Dallas, Texas. She was also named the winner of the Lindenwood College Scholar-Athlete award.

SIUE women's soccer coach Lori Stark also announced the signing of Sue Balota of St. Louis' Lindbergh High School. She is a transfer student from Southwest Missouri State University. She was an All-American her senior year as a striker and halfback.

Deputed Testamony, winner of the Preakness Stakes, and Play Fellow, winner of the Blue Grass Stakes, are among the 33 horses nominated for the $75,000 added Fairmount Derby June 26 at Collinsville's Fairmount Park. Post time is 1:30 a.m.

Another possible attraction is the horse Flag Admiral, which is owned by former President Jimmy Carter and Tom Gentry. Flag Admiral ran in the Ohio Derby Saturday and may run in the Fairmount Derby.

"If he does make the race, I would expect the owners to be at the race," track announcer John Scully said. "I think there is a 50-50 chance of President Carter coming here with his horse."

Play Fellow is owned by Carl Lauer and Bob Victor of St. Louis and Nancy Vanier of Waterloo, Ill. He has raced in both the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Other nationally owned horses include Jackal. Asked To Run, Common Sense, Saverton and Law Talk, have also been nominated.

The team has independently sponsored itself for the past three years, but is seeking donations for the Mexico City trip this summer.

To help defray cost of the trip, which is estimated at 10,100, the team has planned various yard sales, car washes and other fund raisers.

To assure that the trip is a financial success, the team is requesting donations to help defray the cost to parents.

Persons wishing to contribute, may make checks payable to the Granite City Steeler Soccer Team and mail them to Michael R. Vincent (coach), 2425 Benton Street, Granite City.

Discontinue basketball

cordingly. At that time, SIUE's ability to compete against Division I teams was questioned.

The NCAA classifies schools according to size, with Division I status applying mostly to large universities. Top athletes generally attend Division I schools.

Pugliese has a record of 17 wins and 40 losses during his two years as coach at SIUE, going 9-16 the first year and 8-24 last year. Bigham, however, said he was confident the Cougars could play in the larger division.

He said that a status change would bring increased recruiting efforts, including attempts to lure prospects from outside of Illinois. SIUE primarily has recruited within the state and the St. Louis metropolitan area for most of its athletes.

In fact, four basketball recruits were signed under the impression that SIUE would be a Division I school. They have not announced if they will still attend SIUE, Weller said.

Basketball is the main sport concerned in the decision not to change status, but other sports also could be affected, Weller said.

Wrestling coach Larry Kristoff recruited on a much wider scale for the upcoming season, assuming that a status change would be made, Weller said.

Previously, Kristoff recruited Illinois wrestlers and was not always able to lure state champions. However, this year he signed three top wrestlers, including Bob Gonnella, an Illinois state champion in the 135-pound weight class and an honorable mention on the high school All-America team.

State champions from Kansas and Oklahoma have signed to wrestle at SIUE and Weller said that two Florida champions also seem ready to sign. Weller said he believes the Cougars probably will still attend SIUE. A traditional Division II power, SIUE usually advances wrestlers to the Division I national tournament.

Should the wrestling recruits decide to attend SIUE, despite its remaining in Division II, they could provide a huge boost for the sport, officials said.

Soccer and tennis, the two top SIUE sports, will not be affected by the decision. The soccer team already competes in Division I and the tennis team also plays the large schools.

Neither will the women's athletic program be affected, Weller said. Had the men's program changed to Division I, women's athletics would have followed, but, at a later date, he said.

The women's basketball schedule for the upcoming season will not be changed, he said, and the team will continue to play Division II schools.

The ramifications of a decision to drop the program permanently, or for just one year, are unclear at present, but include the fates of the basketball players. There are about 10 basketball players at SIUE on scholarship.

Should the program be dropped, they would be forced to seek other schools and not have to sit out a year. When an athlete changes schools, according to NCAA rules, he or she must sit out the next year.

Ironically, an improved basketball program, capable of competing in Division I, was seen as a reality by many officials because of the new gymnasium. Previously, SIUE was forced to play its men's and women's basketball games at local high school gymnasiums.

Money issues were reluctant to schedule games against SIUE and the university experienced problems recruiting top basketball players because there was no on-campus facility.

But the facility itself was a source of controversy when a committee was established to provide guidelines for its use. Bigham was involved with the committee and several facets of the university, including the student government, had been prominently objected to his having so much input into the use of the gymnasium.

They believed students should have more input and were concerned when guidelines were announced, including a decision to charge faculty members to use the facility. Students pay a quarterly athletic fee, which includes admission into athletic events and use of the facilities. That fee was increased last year.

There also were objections to blocks of time established in which only the basketball team would be permitted to use the gymnasium.

Regardless of what the decision this week will be, officials said they still believe the facility will offer a significant boost to the SIUE athletic program, particularly in basketball.

The basketball program has created controversy before. Two years ago, Jim Dudley resigned as coach. In 1979, he was accused of missing expense vouchers in a series of articles appearing in the campus newspaper, The Alestie.

It was during the ensuing uproar that Bigham was named acting athletic director to replace Bob Guelker, who continued as head soccer coach.

Prior to Bigham's reassignment and the announcement that SIUE would not seek Division I status, The Alestie reported that the two top tennis players, Ken Flach and Robbie Seguso, had not attended classes since fall quarter.

The two maintained grades adequate for them to remain eligible to play, but then attended no more classes, the newspaper said. They did not break any NCAA rules, but comments made by them and by Bigham irked other students and, apparently, some of officials.

The comments indicated that the two should not have to attend classes because their performance on the courts helped SIUE achieve recognition in tennis.

Shortly after, Bigham was released as athletic director. President Larson said the comments and subsequent articles were not the reason for Bigham's reassignment or for the decision not to seek the status change. He said the changes had been considered for a long time before the announcement was made.

Steve Bollinger, assistant secretary of community development for HUD, was present at the Washington meeting and called "extremely well prepared" the county's UDAG application.

Also present were Vincent Bunyan, A.O. Smith long-range planner, and representatives from the offices of U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon and U.S. Rep. Melvin Price.

County officials at the meeting were: Cheryl Jouett, community development director; Rudolph Papa and Homer Henke, county board members; Aaron Ryden, county economic development coordinator.

ones forced to take a loss through property devaluations, if the store is allowed to leave their lot as a vacant lot.

The attorney countered the future store site is already bordered on Johnson Road by business offices and that a store there would serve as a traffic and noise buffer for surrounding private residences located in back of the two vacant lots.

Edwards also cited the economic benefits, including temporary and permanent jobs possible from the $300,000 to $400,000 construction project. No one at the hearing, however, voiced any support for the attorney's arguments.

The audience was apparently so overwhelming against the proposal that David Morgan, plan commission chairman, asked those attending to select one member to give their views. "If everyone talked, we'd be out about 9 p.m.," he said.

"The residents don't want it," Alderman Modrusic, selected to represent the group, told the commissioners. "I have no fear of anyone for it."

The alderman said Frank Laub, Precinct 21 committeeman, along with resident Dortch, made a house-to-house survey of homeowners' feeling on the rezoning subject.

Reading from the Dortch letter, Modrusic listed traffic congestion on two-lane Johnson Road, excessive noise in the neighborhood, the future possibility of gasoline unloading and alcoholic sales near Frohardt School and overflow parking on Lydia Lane among reasons to prohibit the store.

The plan commissioners did not discuss any of the resident's objections, but rather found Southland's request in violation of the city's revised zoning ordinance, which prohibits establishing new commercial zones that are less than an acre in size.

According to the commissions' advisory report to be submitted to the city council Tuesday, the rezoning would create a new commercial district of insufficient size.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said that, although the site does border other business, those businesses were there before the city's new zoning map was drawn and currently are considered non-conforming uses in a residential zone. The area was zoned residential after homeowners, during a series of public hearings held prior to adoption of the new zoning ordinance, asked the area to remain a residential zone.

In other business, the commissioners recommended changes in the zoning status of four pieces of property they said were overlooked during the rezoning of the zoning map. "We missed some place," Morgan said. "We're just putting them where they belong."

Morgan said he thought some of the new zoning changes would actually place more restrictions on the property than under their present zoning rating.

The commissioners recommended changing from R-5 (residential) to C-3 (commercial) the Colonial Haven Nursing home, the Colonades nursing home and the future site of the Knights of Columbus fraternal club. The C-3 designation will limit use to fraternal, medical and social agencies, Morgan explained. Commissioners also recommended a Briarcliff apartment building already constructed before the Zoning Ordinance be zoned for apartment use.

Park planning bus trip to Springfield

The Granite City Park District will sponsor a one-day trip to the Springfield, Ill., area on Saturday, July 9. This is the first time in several years that the park district has made this trip to the Abraham Lincoln country.

The group will leave the Wilson Park Ice Rink at 8 a.m. There will be a short coffee break on the way to New Salem State Park, which is a reconstructed village in which Lincoln spent his early years. Twenty-three log buildings, crops and farm animals recreate the 1840 village where a young Abraham Lincoln lived for six years. Every cabin is furnished and many attended by pioneer costumed guides.

Audio headsets offer a narrative of the village life. The bus will take the group back to Springfield for a visit to the only home Lincoln owned. This is the modest childhood residence the family occupied until moving to Washington.

Other sites such as the Capitol Building, Governor's Mansion and Lincoln's Tomb will be viewed, if time allows.

A smorgasbord meal will be at the Heritage House in Springfield before leaving for home.

The cost of the trip is $16.75, which includes the cost of the meal and the bus transportation. Reservations will be taken in the Wilson Park Office beginning at 9 a.m. Tuesday. Proof of residence must be shown at the time reservations are made. Non-residents will be placed on a waiting list.

economic development money pool that could be dipped into for loans to other businesses, once A. O. Smith has repaid the loan. The UDAG program, administered by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), was begun in 1978 to promote private economic development.

"This is certainly one of the state's most deserving cities because of the current economic conditions and high unemployment rates," Percy commented. The senator stressed the federal grant would help to put people back to work in a community with major industries since 1980. Nine of those firms had been located in Granite City.

The reopening of A. O. Smith will eventually provide about 300 permanent jobs and another 250 indirect jobs in the renovation and construction of the plant, according to the senator's office.

The local A. O. Smith firm, a division of a Milwaukee-based company, had at one time provided 1,400 jobs here and was employing 650 workers when the plant was ordered closed in October, 1980. A strike at the plant by the United Auto Workers union began in progress since April, 1980.

Steve Bollinger, assistant secretary of community development for HUD, was present at the Washington meeting and called "extremely well prepared" the county's UDAG application.

Also present were Vincent Bunyan, A. O. Smith long-range planner, and representatives from the offices of U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon and U.S. Rep. Melvin Price.

County officials at the meeting were: Cheryl Jouett, community development director; Rudolph Papa and Homer Henke, county board members; Aaron Ryden, county economic development coordinator.

Fellowships in India offered

The Office of Graduate Studies and Research at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has announced the availability of advanced research fellowships in India.

Sponsored by the Council for International Exchange of Scholars, the research award will be offered for the 1984-85 academic year.

According to Floyd Coleman, associate dean in the SUIE Office of Graduate Studies and Research, the Council will offer 12 long-term research awards and nine short-term awards. There is no restriction as to the research field.

The fellowship provides a stipend ranging from $1,200 to $1,500 per month, depending on academic, professional achievement and seniority. According to Coleman, $350 per month will be payable in dollars, with the balance in rupees. The fellowships also provide an allowance for books, study-travel in India and international travel.

In addition, long-term fellows (six to 10 months) receive international travel for dependents, a dependent allowance of $100 to $250 per month in rupees, and a supplementary research allowance up to $4,000 rupees. Short term awards are for two to three months in length.

The purpose of the fellowship program is to open new channels of communication between academic and professional groups in the U.S. and India, and to encourage a wider range of research activity between the two countries, Coleman said.

Scholars and professionals who have limited or no experience in India are especially encouraged to apply for the awards. Deadline for applications is July 1, 1983. Additional information concerning the fellowships is available by contacting the SUIE Office of Graduate Studies and Research at 1-692-3011.

Voting issues clarified for township; Helen Hawkins still objects to budget

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

A dispute as to whether a public official can legitimately abstain from voting was clarified last week at the Nameoki Township Board of Trustees meeting, but Trustee Helen Hawkins again objected to the approved budget.

Mrs. Hawkins on May 23 abstained from voting on the town fund and general assistance sections of the budget, objecting to the inclusion of a $23,000 reimbursement from the Madison County Sanitary Sewer Special Service Area Number One and $23,310 from a General Assistance State Grant.

Township attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. was asked to explain the legal impact of an official abstaining to vote. If a quorum is present, an official must vote one way or the other, Slate said.

An official can, however, abstain, but must realize that such a vote must be counted as either a "yea" or "nay" vote, depending on the prevailing side, if there is a tie. "The only time it matters is if there's a swing vote," Slate said.

Mrs. Hawkins wrote Supervisor Harry Briggs and the board of trustees a stern letter which quoted "Roberts Rules of Order" about voting. She also reiterated her initial objections.

"Creating a smokescreen to hide the problem just because someone does not like the way I vote does not address the issue involved of why I abstained," the letter said.

County officials have indicated that the $23,000 reimbursement of what township officials believed was a loan will not be repaid. There is no documentation calling the money a loan, they have argued.

Mrs. Hawkins also said in the letter that Illinois Public Aid Director Jeffrey C. Miller "on June 2, stated that the budget proposed for the Illinois Department of Public Aid does not include any funding for General Assistance cash payments. There is no way on earth that we can ever get a General Assistance state grant of $29,310 when, in fact, the state did not budget for it."

She further charged that the township is inflating its budget. "I understand (that) the idea behind inflating the expected revenues and setting a budget according to the use of those funds is, no doubt, a method to produce money to play with, but what happens when the money does not come in?"

The answer, she said, is "We borrow and pay back with interest, which is not fair to the taxpayers we are supposed to be representing." Briggs has explained that all anticipated revenues must be budgeted, but will not be spent unless the monies actually come in.

Finance Committee Chairman W. Lee Adams and Briggs contend the monies cannot be spent if they are not budgeted, even if the funds come in this fiscal year.

Mrs. Hawkins, however, has countered that the reimbursement was not included in last year's budget and should not be considered as anticipated revenue this fiscal year. She also claims that the budget was prepared without proper input from the Finance Committee, of which she is a member.

But Briggs and Adams said the budget was posted to give trustees and residents ample time to ask questions or make suggestions.

"I think the letter was written in good faith, but I think Helen misunderstands a few things when it comes to budgets and appropriations," Briggs said Monday.

"I don't misunderstand a thing," Mrs. Hawkins replied.

Retired Persons plan picnic meet

Plans were formulated for a picnic meeting in July by members of the American Association of Retired Persons, Inc., Granite City Chapter 1340, at the June session held at the Granite City Township Hall, last week.

Those attending are to bring a lunch and serving the beverages, it was noted. Mrs. Ruth Allen, president, opened the session by introducing guest speakers, Ed Besserman and Bob Thomas of the Thomas Mortuaries Ltd. They spoke on current funeral practices and legal requirements governing them and answered questions covering many facets of funerals. They also discussed death while away from home and donating organs such as eyes, liver and heart.

Mrs. Ruby Corbitt gave the invocation followed by the pledge of allegiance and Mrs. Vernice Walter and Mrs. Juanita Crawley gave monthly reports. In other business, Irene Kadane, community service chairman, told of the needs at Alpha House, for abused women and children, and noted the chapter had made a contribution to project. A donation was also given to assist with the clean-up campaign at Monks Mound. Reta Cotter read a list of cards sent to those in hospitals and to families in sympathy. Mrs. Helen Bertacchi announced the history book of prior years was completed by Mrs. Walter and was on display during the meeting.

Membership cards were issued to new members, Mary Brominski, Casper and Josephine Burgener, Zineel and Margaret Lisac, Sylvia Opich, Alma Garard, Bernice Mercer, Donnie Nolan, Laura Skipper and Herbert and Myra Nolan, Elizabeth McCoy and Rosement Breyer.

Trips are being planned to Silver Dollar City and Kenlake and possibly to the St. Louis Opera if the demand is enough, according to Art Lindner.

Prizes were awarded to Ann Pare, Mrs. Corbitt, Mildred Moss, Marie Bertacchi, Mrs. Allen, Bernice Mercer, Dorothy Hoedbeck, Alvina Thura, Bessie Balcer and Edgar Paddock. During the social hour games were played and refreshments served. The meeting in July will begin at 6 p.m. at the park instead of 7 p.m. and there is no August meeting planned, the president noted.

College will be a busy place

With classes starting in two months, the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College District 52 is sure to be a busy place and equally sure to operate with a deficit for a while.

This is the view of BAC President Bruce W. Wisse, who has addressed a number of local organizations this spring, including the prayer breakfast group.

GCC, a new two-year college center, will be housed in the former North High School at Maryville and Nameoki Roads.

Dr. Wisse said "red ink" is unavoidable initially, because state financial aid to colleges has a built-in two-year delay. No matter how many people enroll for the fall of 1983, state funding will not begin until 1985.

It is hoped to triple the 10,000 credit hours currently taught in Granite City (night classes at South High and day courses at Washington School). GCC will operate day and night at the present North High.

In addition to the quarter-million dollars to be expended in 1983-84 because of the state aid delay, another $1 million will be spent here by BAC that year, it was estimated. The president praised the foresight of the BAC board, including Chairman Patricia Bartoskas, who was present, and Vice-Chairman Avery Schermer.

Dr. Wisse introduced Dr. Frank Cornick, GCC Center provost, Dr. Wayne Clark, BAC vice-president of instruction, Dr. Weldon Tallant, BAC vice-president of student development, Jim Hines, BAC vice-president of administrative services, Rosanna Heron, who will be GCC director of student life and community services, and Sharon Owens, student member of the board of trustees.

It was announced that Lee Knobel, financial aid adviser, will move from BAC to GCC to serve as director of administrative services.

The new center will offer a full range of student activities and there will be a cafeteria, book store, student gymnasium and library, Dr. Wisse said.

A former student and coach at Southeast Missouri college, the BAC president recalled past links with Granite Cityans. He said GCC will help BAC meet all three of its missions—inpensive college services, close proximity to students, and local control of policies.

It was noted that in the St. Louis Business Journal's report on universities and colleges in this metropolitan area, BAC has advanced from second place a year ago to first among all 20 St. Louis region institutions of higher learning.

The 2,100-square-mile BAC district has 3,060 full-time and 8,912 part-time students. Already first, BAC hopes to continue growing despite reductions in the U.S. college-age population.

Pres. Wisse showed how explaining the administration's "can do" attitude and emphasized his belief that the local community is "a winner."

He added, "We don't back losers," and said he is convinced that Granite Cityans will utilize GCC, an essential ingredient if it is to succeed.

"We back no losers, either," moderator Drew Karandjeff said in voicing the breakfast group's approval of BAC's Granite City initiative.

The group was told that Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is cooperating with the college officials in a variety of ways, including development of plans for the GCC library.

GCC will permit SIUE to visit the local center and explain university course offerings to college students desiring further information about SIUE.

Formation of GCC is expected to result in BAC surpassing Central Illinois College in Peoria, becoming the largest-enrollment district of the 35 in Downstate Illinois. The Chicago area has four big community college districts.

The speaker attributed the present lack of BAC attendance in the northernmost and southernmost areas to the cost and time involved in commuting. BAC also hopes to establish a southern center.

The college was unable to expand here earlier, Dr. Wisse said, because of limited funds, and could not afford to construct a major facility here now.

He said Sup. B. J. Davis has always provided excellent cooperation with college needs. He also commended the Madison and Venice school systems and said he hopes to work closely with them.

BAC currently provides 175,000 credit hours of instruction each year. If GCC develops as expected, it will account for 18 percent of the total, the group was told.

The president said GCC will feature courses enabling students to transfer to such schools as SIUE and the University of Illinois after completing two years of college study here.

With data processing and secretarial science to be emphasized, GCC will have a microcomputer center equalling that at BAC, he said.

The college will move aviation maintenance and avionics instruction here from rented space in Cahokia.

He said the varsity soccer and wrestling teams will be moved to GCC, and there will be men's basketball, women's basketball and women's volleyball.

Tuition aid will be provided for some of the athletes and for academically talented students, it was related.

GCC jackets displayed Wednesday will be awarded to those contributing $200 or more to the Granite City Stars Club for scholarships.

Dr. Wisse promised "well-rounded student activities, an open gym, and all that it takes to have a college atmosphere. This will not just be a building where you can take courses."

He predicted a $1,700,000 college district balance June 30, compared to $200,000 three years ago and $1,420,000 a year ago, attributing the increase to productivity gains.

BAC's budget is about half the size of that of the Granite City school district.

To provide the flexibility the college needs when scheduling courses in response to last-minute registration, the bulk of teaching is obtained on a part-time basis, the gathering was told.

RCGA wants small business owners to speak up

The St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association (RCGA) is encouraging small business owners and operators to speak up to the federal government this week.

Capital formation by small businesses, and the problems associated with it, are the subjects of a forum scheduled in St. Louis by the executive committee of the Securities and Exchange Commission's Forum on Small Business Capital Formation.

"The forum is one of five being held across the country," said James M. O'Flynn, RCGA president.

"Its report will go directly to the three Congressional committees concerned with small business, as well as the SEC itself and to federal regulatory agencies."

"It's a prime opportunity for the small business operator to get the ear of the federal government. We want our St. Louis business people to make the most of this chance."

"If they have complaints or suggestions regarding taxes, credit, interest costs, access to financial institutions, or any other pertinent subject regarding their attempts to create capital for their companies, the forum members want to hear them. "The SEC is making a commendable effort to listen to people out in the real world who know first-hand the problems of small businesses," he said.

The executive committee of the SEC's forum is chaired by SEC Commissioner John R. Evans. A panel of committee members will conduct the hearings.

Persons who would like to address the group may contact Ernie Teagle at 1-314-231-5555 or the forum staff at 1-202-272-2644.

Debate how to beef up quality of schools

Concerned about a legislative approach to improving student achievement, the Illinois State Board of Education voted in mid-June to order legislation requiring additional courses for high school graduation.

Action was taken to oppose Senate Bill 669 and House Bill 1179 during the board's monthly meeting in Springfield.

"Requiring students to take additional courses provides no assurance of an increase in the quality of student performances," State Supt. Donald Gill said.

"What we need to do is to stress the need for the state to define what children should know upon completion of an educational program, rather than simply adding more courses."

"The proposed bills would add courses to a school day already packed with requirements, some of which the board has asked the Assembly to remove."

"Although we have no quarrel with the concerns which motivated these bills, we think the matter needs a more comprehensive review."

"We got into the shape we're in with questionable requirements by doing things piecemeal. These new bills, despite their good intentions, would continue that process."

The State Board of Education is developing statements describing what students must at least know and be able to do as a consequence of their schooling.

The outcome statements, which will be recommended as statutes, hold schools accountable for student achievement.

At present, the state's minimum requirement for high school graduation is 16 credits in four areas: English, mathematics, science and social studies.

Also, American history (1 unit) and language arts (at least 3 units) are required courses for graduation.

Schools also must offer courses in science, mathematics, foreign language, music, art, vocational education and other subjects.

SB 669 and HB 1179 would add to the state requirements for high school graduation the following minimum course requirements:

3 years of language arts, 2 years of mathematics (SB 669 allows 1 year of computer education in lieu of mathematics), 2 years of science, 2 years of social studies, and a year of music, art or foreign language.

In a resolution opposing the two bills, the state said, "Action by the General Assembly now, in the absence of a comprehensive examination of state requirements, such as that being conducted by the board, could leave the implication that enough has been done."

In other action, the board approved a resolution to oppose House Bill 477. The bill would allow school districts to provide a four-day school week.

"The State of Illinois should not imply that energy or financial considerations should take precedence over educational considerations by encouraging, through legislation, the shortening of the school week," the board asserted.

Study new fee structure for SIUE

A series of changes in the tuition and fee structure at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been proposed to the SIUE Board of Trustees. The principal change would provide for assessment of tuition and fees on a per-credit-hour basis for students enrolling for one to five credit hours.

The amendment to board policies also would abolish the extension tuition policy and establish a tuition rate specifically for students enrolling in off-campus, cost-recovery courses or programs. In addition, the amendment would abolish the fee structure for the Open University program, which is being phased out because of low participation and high costs.

Other changes would include granting the president of the university the authority to waive the University Center Fee when such a waiver is deemed desirable. The policy governing assessment of the Student-to-Student Grant Fee would be amended to provide that students registering for less than six hours per semester would not be assessed the STS fee.

University officials said the new structure, which would be effective fall quarter, 1983, would provide more equitable tuition and fee assessments. With the changes, comparable charges would be assessed students whether they enroll on campus, at one of the off-campus residence centers, or at an off-campus site in a non-cost-recovery course or program.

Under the new structure, the undergraduate in-state tuition rate would range from $24.45 per quarter for one credit hour, to $294 per quarter for 12 to 18 credit hours and $218.45 for 19 hours or more. The rate for all students enrolled in off-campus, cost-recovery courses or programs would be $15 per quarter for one credit hour.

Fees would range from $15.15 for a student taking one credit hour, to $102.25 for students in the 12-to-18-hour category and $117.40 for students taking 19 credit hours or more. Fees at the resident centers and the Cooperative Graduate Center at Greenville College would be $13.55 for one credit hour, $70 for 12 to 18 credit hours, and $109.55 for 19 hours or more.

The board is expected to act on the proposal Wednesday, July 13, when it meets in Carbondale. Fall quarter begins the last week of September.

In other business last week, plans for a parking lot west of the Multipurpose Building and modifications of two other parking lots at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were approved by the trustees.

Funded as noninstructional capital improvements, with revenues from parking fees and related sources, the projects are estimated to cost approximately $275,000. They will be submitted to the Illinois Board of Higher Education for approval.

The proposed lot near the Multipurpose Building would have 336 parking spaces, including bus parking accommodations, high mount lighting, and control gates, and the project would include modifications of existing walks and drives to access the lot. Estimated cost is $175,000.

The proposal for modifications to the lot located between Lot B, generally known as the visitors lot, by 108 spaces, incorporating a drop-off zone and high mount lighting. Also included are modifications to Lot E, near the Communication Building, to provide a drop-off zone, turnaround areas, pedestrian walk, and eight meter spaces, and to correct drainage problems. Estimated cost is $100,000.

Students at SIUE are on vacation between spring and summer quarters through June 19, but offices at the university remain open during the break.

With spring finals completed, several buildings at the university will operate on limited schedules, including the library, which will remain open through Friday (June 17) from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. The library will be closed June 18 and 19.

For specific information about building operations during the break period, interested persons may contact the University Information Center at 1-692-2739.

Urge enforcement of Venice curfew rules

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

A crackdown against young people congregating in large numbers on city streets late at night in violation of the curfew ordinance, and vehicle owners who do not display a city sticker on their windshield was advocated by Venice aldermen at last week's meeting of the city council.

"Every year you hear me saying the same thing about the curfew and it's getting bad again," Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr. contended.

"Last Friday and Saturday, I sat at Klein and Bissell Streets about 12:30 at night and with all the activity going on it seemed like 12:30 in the daytime. Kids were flocking around and making all that noise, it was something. I saw two police cars pass by, but that didn't deter the kids at all."

The alderman continued, "I believe the police are going to have to make a complete crackdown on curfew violators. I know it's difficult, but crime has gone up in my ward last year. We have in other parts of the city, so maybe a crackdown on the curfew violators would help."

He complimented the officers on their vigilance against crime "in a larger sense," but stressed the need for increased alertness against the curfew violators.

"Some people are becoming afraid to go out of the streets and we are not going to let these youths take over our city."

"I think the dice shakers on Weaver or any other illegal activity should be stopped and if our police can't enforce it may be we should ask the county to help," he contended.

Valentine specifically mentioned a group of motorcyclists "who use Weaver street as a speedway, especially on Tuesday nights."

"They go by gearing down and the noise is a factor as people are trying to sleep," he stressed. "They do the same thing up and down Broadway." Second Ward Alderman Hank Svezia added.

According to Venice police, curfew hours in the community are from 11 p.m. until 6 a.m. Sunday through Thursday and midnight until 6 a.m. on Friday and Saturday.

About 1,000 city vehicle stickers have been purchased to date, a slightly higher figure than was recorded at the same time last year, City Comptroller Roseann Koelker reported.

First Ward Alderman John Fleig stressed that stickers, costing $5 each, must be displayed on the windshield, according to ordinance.

"If someone has to get their windshield replaced, a replacement sticker will be issued free of charge," he said.

"The only way to eliminate this problem of some people not buying stickers is for police to start getting the tickets out," he said.

At the May 31 meeting, Mayor Tyrone Echols announced residents without stickers on their vehicle would receive a traffic citation after the Wednesday, June 15, deadline.

A fine of $52 for each violation is assessed against a vehicle owner without a city sticker displayed.

Stickers still may be obtained, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays at the office of Venice Comptroller Roseann Koelker in the Venice City Hall.

In other business, the council learned that the city is eligible to hire a student worker under the sixth annual Summer Youth Employment Program sponsored by the Madison County Urban League.

The student worker, selected through the schools, will work 20 hours a week for 10 weeks, now through Aug. 19. A donation from Ralston Purina Co., is assisting the Urban League fund this year's program, it was noted.

New camping area at Horseshoe Lake

HOWARD SILAS

Reappointed to port board

Howard Silas, 51, of 1221 Market St., Venice, has been reappointed to a three-year term as a member of the Tri-City Regional Port District Board.

His appointment was approved by the Venice City Council at last week's meeting.

Silas was initially named to the board in 1982 to fill the unexpired term of the late William "Mike" Ebersold.

He has resided in the Quad-City area the past 43 years and is employed by Consolidated Aluminum Corp. (Conalco). He formerly worked at A. O. Smith Corp. and served with the U. S. Army.

Silas was educated in the Madison schools and attended Northern Illinois University at DeKalb. He is a member of Mount Nebo Baptist Church, Venice American Legion Post 799 and the Newport Homecoming Association.

He and his wife, Joan, are the parents of two children, Carla and Corey. Silas' reappointment to the board was requested by Carl A. Ranft, port district general manager.

Two new camping areas, at Clinton Lake State Recreation Area in DeWitt County and at Horseshoe Lake State Park in Madison County, have been opened to public use by the Illinois Department of Conservation this month.

Raymond J. Norbut, superintendent of public lands, said construction of both facilities began about two years ago with funds appropriated by the legislature in the 1981 fiscal year.

The Horseshoe Lake facility, near Granite City, has 29 graveled camping pads for trailers, 10 tent camping sites, a small overflow area for self-contained units, a sanitary service is available and the site is rated as a Class C camping area, for which a $3 nightly fee is charged.

Located on Horseshoe Lake's island, accessible only by causeway, the new campground is the lone camping facility at the state park.

It also will serve patrons of two nearby state parks,

Cahokia Mounds and Frankfort, where camping has been eliminated.

Horseshoe Lake State Park, reached via Ill. Rt. 111 just north of I-55, encompasses 2,370 acres, 850 acres of which are water.

It has 3 1/2 miles of hiking trails, a day-use area, picnic facilities, boat ramps, and bank fishing areas. Hunting also is permitted. Outboard motors up to 25-horsepower may be used on the lake.

The new camping area at Clinton Lake is in the site's newly opened Mascoulin Recreation Complex and offers 154 campsites — including four or five for tent campers — plus water hydrants, a trailer dumping station, vault toilets, and a shower building having flush toilets. It is the first family camping facility at Clinton Lake. Entrance is from Highway 14, two miles south of Clinton.

Release based on time served

After pleading guilty last month and then being sentenced to five years in prison, Stanley Wells, 1967 Fourth St., East Madison was freed when Circuit Judge Philip Rarik gave credit for serving about two and a half years of an earlier term.

Court authorities said Friday the man initially was convicted in January 1981 regarding an Aug. 8, 1980, occurrence. A ten-year sentence was imposed, and was appealed.

The Appellate Court reversed the verdict due to an error in the trial and remanded the case for a new trial, records show.

Instead of a second trial being conducted, Wells submitted the guilty plea to voluntary manslaughter and was discharged from further obligation due to the 1981-83 confinement.
